

How poor weather can affect the airline industry and related markets

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=fAor1q6PTmE&list=PLQuJJsJlyMLKbgAFFEePG3dywuluDd1m9&index=12>

In this video, students will learn how to write a JC Economics Essay that examines the effects of poor weather and environmental pollution on the airline industry and the related markets. The question requires application of the demand and supply analysis as well as elasticity concepts.

Through the use of a guided and instructional video explanation, students can enhance their learning methods by setting perspectives and provide in-depth discussion of the issues.

Furthermore, this video is prepared with the consideration of the time constraints imposed for the examinations. Therefore, the essay writing skills attained from the video will make writing feasible to achieve, thereby enabling students to excel at their A Level Economics examinations.

Students who are interested to learn more, you can join our GCE A level preparation class. Please call Simon Ng @ 96890510 for more consultation.